Children in the Digital Age: Are We Technically Better?

CROSS INSURANCE CENTER

515 MAIN ST BANGOR, MAINE

FEATURING KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Meagan Mitchell, DSW, MSW, MED, LICSW, RPT

Meagan Mitchell, DSW '25, is an experienced social worker and educator with over 13 years in the social work and education field, spanning both direct and indirect practice. Formerly a school social worker, Mitchell now focuses on private practice, specializing in supporting children, teens and young adults. As the founder of Agents of Change, a test preparation and continuing education company, Mitchell is committed to advancing social justice and driving societal change at the micro, mezzo and macro levels through clinical expertise, consultation and an anti-oppressive lens. She loves combining her passion for learning and sharing her knowledge with the social work community. Meagan has a strong interest in tech & innovation, specifically exploring the intersection of technology with social work practices.
